President's Message

Justin D. Cooper

Again this year, on behalf of the Redeemer community, I would like to commend our editor and the yearbook committee for the first rate job they have done on this edition of Anno Domini, capturing so well the spirit and events of this year. I am also pleased to have the opportunity to share this message.

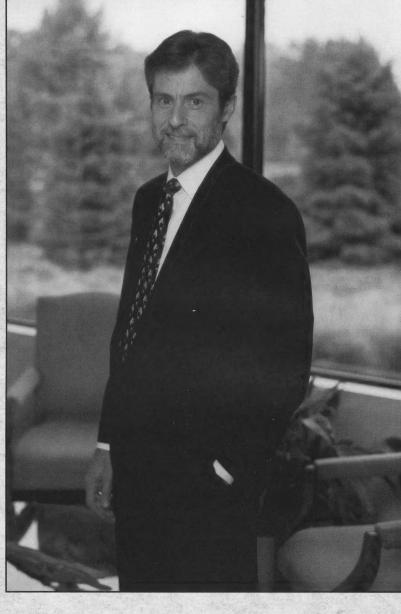

This year we were privileged to welcome over 800 students from 40 different denominational backgrounds, who hailed from across Canada and also from 12 U.S. states and 8 other countries. Together we have worked to develop an active campus life, with many scholastic, cultural, athletic, social and spiritual activities which helped enrich campus life and bring glory to our Lord.

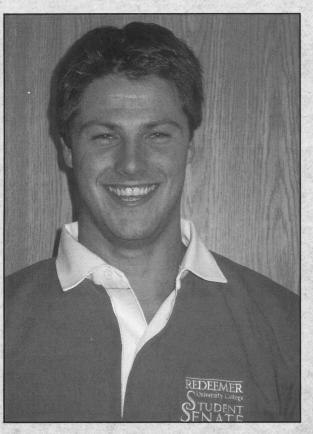

From an institutional perspective, the 2003-04 academic year has been a significant year in the life of Redeemer

The theme for this year was "Taking Every Thought Captive to Christ" taken from II Corinthians 10:5. It is my hope that you have deepened your awareness of what it means to submit to Christ in your personal and academic pursuits, as well as in your residence life and campus activities. As you peruse these pages, may they serve as reminders of all we have been able to share and enjoy.

Whether you are returning for further studies or beginning a new vocation or program of studies, it is our prayer that the Lord will richly bless you as you continue to grow in living in ever fuller submission to the rule and reign of Christ.

Student Senate President's Message

Josh Baxter

Student Senate began the year with its first ever 'training retreat'. The weekend was a success and provided Senate with a strong vision for the upcoming year. Some areas in which Senate wanted to focus on were bringing commuter students closer to the Redeemer community, increasing spiritual fervor on campus, and making Senate more effective on campus. With eyes focused on our goals, Senate was ready to begin another year of service to God.

The first week presented many challenges to Senate as they oriented themselves with their new jobs and at the same time presented orientation sessions for first year students. Although the learning curve was big, Senators fulfilled their tasks and the year was quickly underway. September proved to be a big month for Senate. The monthly events like Coffeehouse and Hot Spot occurred as well as Club Showcase. In October Church Showcase was held and Senate led a Chapel service. The Fall Entreat gathered students together for a weekend of spiritual growth. Other events like the Harvest Ho-down, the fundraising day for City Kidz and the Semi-formal, finished off 2003 with a bang. The new year brought many exciting events like the Winter Retreat and the Spring Banquet.

In the Boardroom Senate was also busy dealing with Student Fees, Transit issues and the Student Recreation-Facility Fund. These issues sparked long debates but all Senators held their composure and worked through them with determination. At the same time, Senate was able to have fun and enjoy each other's company, allowing for friendships to be made.

I hope this year has provided everyone with many fond memories of Redeemer. I want to especially thank all Senators for their perseverance and hard work throughout the year, but I also want to thank the students who gave their time to lead clubs, organize events and for participating in activities all year long. Senate strived to serve the Redeemer community for the glory of God and to Him we give our praise.

THE DAYS EVEN

Each team did their flamboyant cheer and then went to play a series of challenging games such as, wrapping our teammates in toilet paper, dropping pudding on our leaders, and spinning around a baseball bat. Then came the climatic event, the mud pit! Each team did a tug-of-war, but all came out as mud-monsters! Afterward, bodies were thrown into the mud hole and shoes were lost! Waiting in line for the ice-cold hose down finished off the day.

In the spotlight! This team shot captures the spirit of the day, where each team united for the games! (Above left) Redeemer's fundraiser for her sister university, Hilltop, in Nigeria was a huge success this year. Thanks to the numerous contributors giving generously of their time, talents, and hobbies we were able to raise over $3000! From fish dinners, to dorm cleanups, breakfast served in bed, Felix Lam's famous cheesecake and not to mention an elegant dinner evening for 8 served by some of our own faculty (with limo service provided!) were only some among other fabulous items up for bid.

(bottom right) The dynamic duo, Derek Albrecht and Benjamin Bokma, clad in auctioneer garb start the bidding (and provide the entertainment as well!)

Redeemer trips

There are many opportunities for Redeemer students to participate in mission projects. Some are in our own backyard and some are much farther away. Pictured here are three of the trips students participated in this year.

MISSISSIPPI FEBRUARY 13-22, ETT

Once again this year a group of Redeemer students used their Reading Break to head down to Port Gibson, Mississippi. While they were there students worked on houses, roofs, worked with children of the community, and overall mission work.

Each year students from a missions class travel down to Conneticut for two weeks. This year they went for the first two weeks of second semester.

Far Right: The group that headed down to Conneticut. Right: Taking some time out by the water.

AMSTERDAM FEBRUARY 13-22,

2004

On the Amsterdam mission trip Redeemer students minister to the local Amsterdam community through prayer as well as direct interaction in the casual setting of coffee shop. There is also some time to see the sights.

While Redemeer students were not ministering to the needy Amsterdam community, they did have some time to see the local sights and experience some true Dutch culture.

Another year ends and so another page turns in our lives as we look forward with anticipation, excitement and probably a little nervousness and anxiety as to what God has in store for us. I know for myself, and I can likely speak for most if not all of you, that this year has indeed been a huge transition from the past couple years workwise, busy-wise, class-wise and not to mention sleep-wise! Taking on the responsibility of yearbook editor this year has taught me not only responsibility itself, but it has made me persevere for that virtue of patience when it seems that computers, technology and all the seemingly "user friendly" programs have conspired against me (that, or I'm just having a bad day...)

This year's theme, "Taking every thought captive to Christ" definitely struck a chord in the area of time management for me. Under the pressure of time, deadlines and due dates I often found myself yearning for "my" own time, until I realized that I could never find time that solely had my name on it. Taking every thought captive means taking every moment captive to Christ as well because every instant of our existence is dependent upon God. By His grace He holds every second and minute of our lives on earth in His hands - we are His and "our" time is really His time. It is my prayer for each one of you, that all of us as individuals, as an institution as witnesses to Christ, might use the time granted to us for God's glory and to take every thought, word and deed captive to Him.

l would like to thank this year's wonderful yearbook staff for the time and effort they put into making this book a success - you did an incredible job! Much appreciation and thanks to Jim Barnim and assistant editor Brianna Hammer for their support and patience with me, for all of your help and rescue efforts in my hours of need! Our attempts at world domination were valiant Brianna, who knows what this year's edition of Anno Domini will bring...one yearbook at a time;)
